Haddock, $3.50; large cod, $2.50 to $3; market cod, $1.50 to $2; hake, 75 cts. to $1.25.

Fishing Facts and Fancies.

Sch. Paragon was at Canso, N. S., on Monday.

Sch. Theodore Roosevelt, bound for the Magdalen Islands for bait, passed Canso on Monday.

Sch. Juno sailed from Canso on Monday.

Sch. T. M. Nicholson cleared from Shelburne, N. S., on Monday.

Good Trips.

Sch. Atalanta, Capt. Richard Wadding, arrived yesterday afternoon from the Gulf of St. Lawrence with a good fare, 30,000 pounds of fresh halibut and 20,000 pounds of salt cod.

Sch. Cavalier, Capt. Robert Porper, also arrived from the Gulf of St. Lawrence yesterday afternoon with another of her usual good fare, 45,000 pounds of halibut and 10,000 pounds of salt cod.

Halibut have been in liberal receipt lately and the trade for them is not very brisk.

Halibut Sale

The fare of sch. Atalanta sold to the New England Fish Company and that of sch. Cavalier to the American Halibut Company, both at 6 cents per pounds for white and 4 cents for gray.

SALT FISH SALES.

Rips Codfish Take Still Another Drop in Prices.

The fare of trawl Rips salt cod of sch. Bertha M. Bailey sold to Reed & Gamage.

The fare of salt Rips handline cod of sch. David Sherman sold to Sylvanus Smith & Co. on Monday at $3.75 per hundred weight for large and $2.75 for medinms.

Yesterday the fare of salt Rips handline cod of sch. Joseph H. Cromwell sold to Sylvanus Smith & Co. at $3.50 and $2.50 per hundred weight for large and medium. This vessel arrived Monday.

The market on Rips cod appears to be very dull at present and there is little or no activity shown by the firms in trying to secure trips. At the opening of the season these fish sold as high as straight Georges handline cod. The latter have since declined from $4.50 and $3.50 per hundred weight to $4.25 and $3.25, but the Rips fish have dropped considerably more, and although the Board of Trade price on them is $3.75 and $2.75, the real market on them is the figure at which the Cromwell sold. All lines of codfish, fresh and salt, have shown a drop in price the past month.

The fare of Block Island dory handline cod of sch. Dido sold to Slade Gorton & Co.

WHOLE CREW RESCUED.

Sch. Manhasset Picked Up Sch. Annie M. Parker's Men.

Weight of Fish and Rough Sea Had Filled Seineboat.

The Halifax Chronicle, in speaking of the loss of the big school of mackerel by sch. Annie M. Parker of this port, says:

"On Saturday sch. Annie L. Parker, Capt. McLean, hove her seine round two schools estimated to consist of about 400 bbls. but only 35 bbls. were saved. It was very rough at the time and the seine boat filled. Sch. Manhasset picked up the seine boat and crew. In the meantime the seine burst as it was alongside the Annie L. Parker and the fish nearly all escaped."

Fishing Facts and Fancies.

Sch. Paragon was at Canso, N. S., on Monday.

Sch. Theodore Roosevelt, bound for the Magdalen Islands for bait, passed Canso on Monday.

Sch. Juno sailed from Canso on Monday.

Sch. T. M. Nicholson cleared from Shelburne, N. S., on Monday.

Mackerel Notes.

Schs. Natalie J. Nelson and Nourmahal were at Halifax on Tuesday.

Schs. Mary E. Harty and Moaniam were at Lunenburg, N. S., Monday and cleared.

WON'T BE CAUGHT.

Mackerel to Southward Are Too Wild for Seiners.

Cape Shore Fleet Out After the Heavy Storm.

At the present time, all the vessels of the mackerel fleet, both seiners and netters, appear to be finding fish scarce. At New York only a very few netters are arriving daily and with small fares. Off Block Island, the fish are there but so wild that it is impossible to catch them, while on the Cape Shore, up to recently, the weather has been so bad that the fleet have had to harbor for shelter. The latest advices are that they have now gone out and the first news from them is awaited with great interest, for the success or failure of the fleet on the Cape Shore, after a poor spring out south, means much to Gloucester.

Sch. Saladin, Capt. Flar McKown, reports that the fish are still out there and schooling, but that they are so wild that it is simply impossible to stop a school.

A letter from Capt. Wesley Farmer of sch. Partician, written at Halifax on Monday said that quite a number of the fleet were in there on account of bad weather. They had seen a few fish, but the weather had been very bad and none had been taken. The skippers felt that after this spell of rough weather that it would come on fine. The fish had just begun to come along and if they could get some good weather so they could fish, they felt that the prospect was good.

The following netters were at Newport yesterday:

Steamer Favorite, 170 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Torpedo, 65 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Dart, 350 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Rattler, 100 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Olive E., 120 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Barbara, 400 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Magnolia, 114 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Lizzie Foster, 190 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Lewis Warren, 250 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop A. S. Caswell, 300 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Briganza, 100 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Mogul, 100 large fresh mackerel.

The Yarmouth steamer brought 12 barrels of fresh mackerel to Boston yesterday.

The steamer from Halifax, at Boston today, has eight barrels of fresh mackerel.

Sch. Actor, 1100 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Mildred, 45 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Priscilla, 100 large fresh mackerel.

A Halifax despatch says that the seining fleet which has harbored there during the recent storm sailed yesterday after large schools of fish which had been sighted off there.

Sch. Claudia was at Halifax yesterday.

The following netters arrived at New York this morning:

Sch. Laura Gamage, 700 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Angielena, 350 large fresh mackerel.

Large schools of mackerel were reported off Sambro Monday and Tuesday nights but it was too rough for the seining fleet to put out from Halifax after them.

A despatch from Capt. Almon D. Mallo h of sch. Edna Wallace Hopper from Canso, N. S., today would indicate that the prospect on the Cape Shore is not too good. The despatch was brief, merely asking what the mackerel prospect was up this way and to the southward; but vessel owners and fishermen, as well as dealers, know that when there is much of a prospect of fish on the Cape Shore, captains of seiners are not wiring home to find out what the prospect is up this way.

REMARKABLE CATCH.

Halibut Fare of Sch. E. E. Gray Taken on Scatteri.

First Big Haul of These Fish
There for Years.

One of the most remarkable fishing trips for many years was that just completed by sch. Elmer E. Gray, Capt. Val O'Neil, which arrived at Boston Wednesday from the Scatteri grounds with 30,000 pounds of salt cod, and 55,000 pounds of fresh halibut. The remarkable part of it is that such a large haul of halibut, one of the largest from any bank for several months, should have been taken on the great codfishing grounds off Scatteri, where a halibut fare of any size has not been taken for fully 15 years.

The trip and the place of catching was the subject of much comment among vessel owners and the fishermen there and those who keep well posted in the halibut business say that it is over 15 years since a trip of halibut has been caught on this ground. They think that Capt. O'Neil must have set right on a big school of halibut which was passing over this ground on its way to some familiar bank.

Newfoundland Fishermen Not Barred Here.

The St. John's, N. F., Herald says:

"As we predicted, the report that our pogie fishermen would not be allowed on American vessels this year because of our recent enactment, proves to be untrue, having grown out of a message to some 'down the shore' men not to come last week but to be along by June 6. They leave by next Rosalind."

GOT GOOD HAUL.

Porgy Steamer Took 170 Barrels of Large Mackerel.

Taken Off Montauk Point and Shipped to New York.

The porgy steamer Promised Land, one of the fleet of the American Fisheries Co., is said to have made a haul yesterday or last night off Montauk Point of 170 barrels of large mackerel and shipped the fish from Montauk to the dealers at Fulton Market, New York. This is the first haul of mackerel made to the southward for some time.

Capt. Robert Porper of sch. Cavalier reports encountering fog and bad weather coming up the Cape Shore and saw no mackerel or seiners.

Five netters arrived at Newport this morning with very small trips of large fresh mackerel.

No mackerel are reported at Yarmouth.

June 2.
POLLOCK SEINING.

Nova Scotia Port Has Two Schooners in the Business.

Nova Scotia has two fine schooners in the pollock seining fishery this season, sch. Terence C. Lockwood and sch. Springwood, both owned by William McMillan of Lockport and both of which have been to this port with fish cargoes.

The vessels are fitted with seineboats and seines, as are the regular mackerel seiners, only the seines are heavier, and the fish are taken in the same way, the vessels operating in the shoal water along the sandy bottom, close in to Sable Island.

This is the fishery which was initiated by sch. Maxine Elliott, Capt. Alden Geel, of this port in the spring of 1904. Last year Nova Scotia had one vessel in the fishery, a craft from Lockport, and she did quite well.

June 2.
First Shad

The first shad of the season hereabouts were taken on Thursday in Tarr's trap at Kettle Island and shipped to Boston. There was a barrel in all.

June 2.
SEINER AT NEW YORK.

Former Gloucester Craft Has One Hundred Barrels Mackerel.

Several Netters at Fulton Market with Small Trips.

During the present week the mackerel fleet has landed 1296 barrels of large fresh mackerel against 2997 barrels for the corresponding week last year.

Imports of salt mackerel at Boston to date, catch 1905, 45,409 barrels against 30,322 barrels, catch of 1904, at this time last year.

Thus far this season, the mackerel fleet has landed 9808 barrels of fresh and 329 barrels of salt mackerel against 16,728 barrels of fresh and 52 barrels of salt mackerel at this time last year.

The catch of mackerel Thursday night and Friday near the back side of Long Island was even greater than was first supposed. A despatch to the Boston Fish Bureau this morning says that the shipment from Montauk, Long Island, which reached Fulton Market, New York, this morning, numbered 25,000 large fish in count. The fish were taken by porgy steamers.

The following netters arrived at New York yesterday afternoon:

Steamer Joppaite, 800 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Manomet, 1700 large fresh mackerel.

The following netters were at Newport yesterday:

Sloop Olive E., 35 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Eleanor, 180 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Success, 190 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Dart, 375 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Lewis Warren, 275 large fresh mackerel.

The following netters are at New York this morning:

Sch. Willie, 130 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Mary Emerson, 600 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Priscilla, 900 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. M. Madeleine, 800 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Lafayette, 200 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Winnie Kane, 50 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Georgianna, 800 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Metacomet, 700 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Jennie H. Gilbert, 150 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. H. S. Pinkham, 500 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Minnehaha, 900 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Bertha and Pearl of New York, formerly of this port, is also at Fulton dock this morning with 6100 large fresh mackerel.

This craft is evidently seining.

A letter from sch. Elizabeth Silsbee, dated at Halifax, on Wednesday, reported rough weather outside and quite a fleet in there for harbor. The Silsbee had 30 barrels of salt mackerel. They felt that the vessels would get some fish as soon as good weather came.

June 2.
Rips Cod Prices Dropped.

At a meeting of the fisheries committee of the Board of Trade this forenoon, the price of salt Rips cod was dropped 25 cents per hundred on both large and medium grades, to correspond with the last sales of these fish. The price now is $3.50 for large and $2.50 for medium.
